02. Challenges and Risks

Workforce: The biggest challenge facing children's services in quarter 4 is the workforce. Whilst there is a national workforce issue within social work and social care, we are experiencing higher levels of staff absence, maternity leave and the inability to recruit external candidates. The pool of agency staff is poor as all local authorities are facing similar challenges. Due to the size of our local authority being unable to recruit coupled with increased sickness absence results in a significant impact on services. The volume of work and new initiatives coming into children's services is increasing and the challenges of identifying suitably skilled and experienced staff to take forward pieces of important work is a real issue. It is becoming increasingly difficult to drive forward change or to allow time for evaluation around how we are doing business.

Whilst not the only factor, the issue is exacerbated by our salaries not being as competitive as neighbouring local authorities. Within the last 6 years we have only been able to recruit one team leader from an external source all other positions have been promotions within the organisation. Furthermore, there is a view that many workers are leaving the profession due to increasing demands being placed on the social work role. We recognise that this is something that professional bodies are tackling nationally.

Currently and unusually we have vacancies for social workers (4), team leader (2) and a service manager backfill. The risk this brings to the service is that we are only able to deliver on operational matters with little or no capacity for managers to do any strategic work. Our numbers of looked after and children on the child protection register remain low which means we are getting this right, and have done for quite some time, but the concern is the volume of referrals coming into the service means we could be at risk of missing something that is low level escalating. Given the many competing demands upon service managers in particular we have no capacity to undertake additional work at this stage to improve or better understand this situation. In August several managers return from maternity leave thus allowing some capacity within the service to take forward areas of improvement.

Children's Services Referrals: Referrals into the duty team are at an all-time high. There has been a 49% increase in the number of referrals since 2020 when the pandemic began, and a 13.39% increase from last year to this year. Having undertaken some further exploration a large percentage of referrals are repeat referrals which evidences that we are not getting things right at the first point of contact, furthermore a significant proportion are around financial requests. The inception of the family wellbeing service will over time support a change in practice and culture where we reduce the number of repeat referrals, many of which are related to financial pressures within families. Unfortunately due to workforce issues around recruitment, sickness and maternity leave we have been unable to progress a deeper dive into this piece of work. We are however working with partners to identify a suitable person to progress this work as an area of priority.

National Care Service: The 'Bill' which is currently in Stage 1 of the process remains at the developmental phase. The Minister for social care has requested an extension to after the summer recess before publishing another version of what an NCS could look like. A response is still to be received as to whether Parliament agrees to this or not. Given the changes in structure/positions it is likely this will be granted. A significant amount of work is happening behind the scenes around how an NCS could improve outcomes for service users. Over the summer there hopes to be extensive consultation with officers in children's services around the impact of being included or not within the NCS. This level of uncertainty is challenging for the workforce and comes at a time when there is a national workforce crisis across both social work and social care. Work is however being progressed regardless of the NCS status around a National Social Work agency (NSWA) This work is just commencing but there appears to be a real appetite to progress to a national approach to pay and conditions across the land.

The Promise: The Promise lead has now commenced in post and will progress Midlothian's Promise Strategy and plan. A challenge in progressing this work will be to engage with all partner agencies to ensure shared responsibilities as corporate parents. A series of Promise engagement/awareness raising will be rolled out across the Council and Partnership and will include Elected members.

Poverty: As families continue to be impacted by the cost of living crisis this is expected to lead to an increase in the number of families experiencing poverty. This also applies to workers on low incomes. Financial requests into the children's services remains high however we have recently recruited a worker to look at all financial request to ensure families are accessing the right supports and benefits.

Unaccompanied Asylum Seeking Children: The arrival of Ukrainian families continues in Midlothian with support from the local authority and our 3rd sector colleagues too as well as our hosts.

What is more challenging is the arrival of unaccompanied asylum seeking children within Scotland. Last year Scotland received 280 UASC most of which we were mandated to take. The numbers arriving in Kent via the boats are beginning to increase as the weather improves and there is a legitimate concern that we may be mandated as a country to open a hotel to accommodate young people. Within Social Work Scotland and other national groups such as COSLA we are strongly opposing this approach. Having children reside within hotels is not a model of care that anyone in 2023 would support and would result in one local authority having a statutory responsibility for all the looked after young people within this accommodation. Given the current concerns around lack of foster care and residential care accommodation it is very concerning how we shall support ongoing requests to accommodate unaccompanied asylum seeking children and young people. To date Midlothian have been able to accept all mandatory requests from the home office however we are now in a position like many other local authorities where we have no foster care placements or beds within our children's house and therefore if a young person under 16 presented tomorrow we would need to consider an external placement.

Children with and Enduring Complex Needs: We continue to work with partners to explore how best to meet the current demands and pressure whilst making sure we future proof our services to deliver sustainable options locally for children and young people with ASN and Complex and Enduring Needs. This includes consideration of residential care home provision.

Foster Care: We continue to seek and explore options to expand our foster carer population recognising the need to future proof this area of service. We are looking at new campaigns to promote recruitment of foster carers for both local children and young people but also to consider caring for unaccompanied asylum seeking children and young people. Once again this is a national issue not unique to Midlothian
